

Wireless Backup

A multi-carrier solution that keeps your business up and connected... Always Disruptions to data or internet connections don't come with a warning. Waiting until disaster strikes to discover you don't have a backup plan could be a costly mistake.

Why Segra Wireless Backup

Segra wireless backup delivers peace of mind that your employees can connect to the applications they need in the event of an outage. If your connection goes down, the automatic failover system kicks in to keep you up and running until your primary access is restored.

4G/LTE Wireless Backup can be used to back up your Segra provided fiber MPLS. In the event of a primary link outage, the rules, priorities, IPs, and policies can be seamlessly extended over LTE.

Wireless backup now has the ability to connect to the best local LTE provider in your area. By partnering with the top carriers in the nation, you can determine who your primary and secondary carriers will be, ensuring you have optimal signal strength. This means your wireless backup to your Segra network connection will have it's own wireless backup, built in.

Features and Benefits

- Multi-carrier options allows you to chose the best providers for your primary and secondary signals.
- Flat monthly rate with no usage fees means no surprises on your bill, regardless of outage duration.
- Automatic failover switching to Segra WAN maintains your connection without disruption or downtime.
- Private wireless connection to the Segra network keeps your systems and data secure until access is restored.
- 24/7 monitoring and management ensures your wireless backup is always ready to respond.
